Case Study :

Achieving Improved Customer Satisfaction With Rapid Turnaround!!

A manufacturing company in the confection industry turned to us to help setup a bagging operation quickly.

Their current supplier had evaluated their current business model and had decided that bagging was not part of their core competency.

In order to ensure the proper changeover, we began retrofitting our current Hayssen bagging machine and Ishida scale. Within two months of notification of being awarded this program, we were able to begin production. This ensured our customer supply lines were full which in turn kept them very satisfied with our service.
