Shrink-Wrapping

Case Study :

Club pack it.....No problem

Many consumer products companies have felt the pressure of increasing sales through the massive club store industry. This is what happened when an existing feminine hygiene customer came to us with the challenge of shrink-wrapping several products together within a tight time frame to seize a club store opportunity. The difficulty lied in the details, two of the products needed rework involving lot coding, converting damaged product, and replacing parts.

Our ability to demonstrate process and quality controls and delivery within their time frame allowed our customer to seize the club store opportunity.
